PONTYBODKYN LADIES GUILD

September 26th.

Tonight the ladies were given a fantastic demonstration of Spinning wool from the original fleece to hanks and balls of lovely wool that is ready to knit into whatever garment you require. Our speaker was Mrs. Alice Dibbert, who is known to several of our members, shared with us all the techniques she has learned over the years; two of the ladies had a try spinning and using a wheel to 'ply' two strands together, it was all very extremely interesting.

Mrs. Margaret Roberts thanked Mrs. Dibbert for her excellent demonstration. We then enjoyed lovely refreshments provided by Mrs. Ann Banarjee, Mrs Roberts thanked her and the raffle (which was provided by Mrs. Anne Davies) was won by Mrs. Janet Burden.

Our meetings in October are on 10th-as below, and on 24th when Mrs. Pam Davy from the charity "Woolies for the world" will give us a talk on her work and her charity, passing on woolen garments to children who need the warmth of woollen clothes.

October 10th, 2019

Tonight was our celebration for the Harvest Festival with hymns, readings, a short address by one of our members and then we all shared a bountiful harvest supper provided by all members.

We sang our favourite harvest hymns, "Come, ye thankful people come" and "All things bright and beautiful", accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Roberts playing the organ.

Our members all donated some items of food that will be taken to Mold to be used in the local Foodbank.

We also had a collection after our service, this amounted to £41, which we decided to donate to Ysgol Derwenfa.

The raffle prize which was donated by Mrs. Doreen Kilpatrick, was won by Mrs. Jenny Webb.

At our next meeting on Thursday 24th October our speaker will be Mrs. Pam Davy who will talk about her charity, "Woolies for the World".

REMEMBERANCE

On the eleventh of November
Make sure that you remember
Remember those who went to war
Remember what they have died for

Those who did not return
The name of heroes they did earn
Remember that come what may
That they were heroes we will always say

Some say that time moved on
Nevertheless we do remember those who have gone
It is important that we remember
That they did not surrender

“I’ve got the Year 11 group from Hell this morning, Lord, help me!”

‘We were just talking about you, God and me.’

That’s what I think sometimes when I meet friends. I don’t say it out loud because it might sound big-headed, you know, as if God and me are buddies down the pub very night. But I do pray often for my friends. The Bible tells us to “pray at all times” and that’s what people of faith do. They touch base with God various times in the day.

Some are methodical and have a set routine, others are more chaotic but still find moments to quieten the heart and pray for the world. There’s even a nice example in the Bible of a man at work in the palace of a great, rather dangerous king who shot up a desperate prayer to God and received a remarkable answer. You can read about it yourself in the book of Nehemiah if you’re interested (there’s an index at the front of every Bible to help you find the right page). In the days when I was a school teacher I used to pray on my way to work catching the 6:40am train to Bristol Temple Meads every morning. Closing my eyes, it looked to everyone else as though I was dozing, while in fact I was having a serious meeting with the Almighty, often along the lines of “I’ve got the Year 11 group from Hell this morning, Lord, help me!”

Anyway, wherever you are, take time for God. You’ll feel better for it and the people around you will be blessed. If you believe in God, talk to him... often.

Peter Cousins

A warm welcome to everyone!

Morning Service

Our morning service begins at 10:15am and finishes about 11:30am. The service is structured but fairly informal in style. We sing modern Christian songs and some classic hymns too. We have Bible teaching that is relevant to our lives and journey of faith, and should be appropriate for those who are seeking faith as well as those growing in faith.

Kidzone is available for younger children. After the service we have tea and coffee, and sometimes a meal together as a church family.

Sunday Evenings

On alternate Sunday evenings we meet at 6:00pm for prayer and in the autumn the Christianity Explored course (see below).

Cedron Congregational Church

Cedron is located at the bottom of the Pontybodkin Hill, Leeswood and is nestled near the junction with the Corwen Road by the bridge. No doubt you have driven past it many times on your way to Mold, Wrexham or Chester.

We are a small, friendly, welcoming group of Christians who meet every Sunday morning at 10:30am. Our meeting normally lasts an hour. So, instead of driving past we would love to see you and welcome you as we meet to worship God, sing, pray, talk, share and read and study the Bible together in a friendly and informal atmosphere

SPEAKERS for October/November 2019.

October 20 th	TBA
October 27 th	Mr Clive Davies
November 3 rd	Mr Phillip Snow (Title: From Babel to Brexit)
November 10 th	Mr Clive Davies
November 17 th	Rev Martin MCaw

A Harvest thanksgiving service was held at Cedron on Saturday the 28th of September and the following traditional Hymns were sung:

- 1) Come you thankful people come
- 2) We plough the fields and scatter the good seed on the land
- 3) Now thank we all our God with hearts and hands and voices

The evening was led by the Rev. Robert Parry with organist Mr Christopher Enston. Prayers, a message of thanks and a message to the children were delivered by Reverend Martin McCaw, Mrs Joyce McCaw and Mrs Ceris Ferrer of Bethania Baptist Church. The local children took part in bringing produce from the harvest to the table. Also represented in the congregation were local choir members and singers. Our gratitude to Mrs Margaret Richards, Mrs Gill Burton and Mrs Dorothy Gent for providing the flower displays and refreshments.

Truly Cedron's newly repaired roof was tested to its limits by the large congregation wonderfully singing of the harvest time hymns. It was a privilege to hear God's message combining stories over many years of service helping to illustrate our many blessings, in all circumstances, however events may find us and wherever we are. Awaiting is still required.

Our message concluded with guidance from Paul's first letter to the church of the Thessalonians chapter 5 versus 16,17 and 18:

Verse 16 rejoice evermore

Verse 17 pray without ceasing

Verse 18 in everything give thanks for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

Rev. Parry boldly described Cedron as 'Disgwylfa' meaning a place of expectation.

A most uplifting Service thanks to everyone who attended, and we look forward to planning the next harvest service celebration for Saturday the 26th of September 2020 at 6:30 pm details to follow nearer to the time.

What is Methodism?

Methodism
is a grassroots movement.

It is a strong feature of Methodism that ordinary lay people play a major part in the running of the Church.

Local lay people called 'stewards' take responsibility for the fabric of church buildings and manses and for the handling of money. They share with ordained ministers the role of setting direction for the churches in a particular area or 'circuit'. Wesley Methodist Church is part of the Buckley and Deeside Circuit.

Worship each week is not always led by an ordained minister, but often by a local preacher - a lay person who has been trained and authorised to lead worship and preach or by friends of that Church who lead non preaching services.

At all levels of the Methodist Church, lay people are involved in decision making, and the vice-president of the Conference is always a lay person or deacon.

This emphasis goes back to the roots of Methodism. John Wesley was very much a folk theologian who wanted to speak 'plain truth to plain people'. He took seriously the working people of his day. He addressed his preaching to them, and drew great crowds in the street or on hillsides.

He also trusted them with responsibilities. In building the local Methodist groups or 'societies', he trained many lay people who then maintained the meetings and gave pastoral care and challenge to the members. He also trained preachers, who led worship locally, rather than travelling the country like himself.

If we have mixed feelings about faith, or are unsure whether we are feeling the right things, or unable to get away from feelings of guilt, it helps to know that we are not alone.

John Wesley wrestled with difficult feelings on his journey of faith. Although already an ordained minister in the Church of England, he did not feel he was truly loved and forgiven by God until on 24 May 1738 he went unwillingly to a meeting where his heart was strangely warmed. He had put himself in the right place, and found that God gave him freely the sense of joy and assurance he was looking for.

Perhaps we need to remember that our faith rests not on our own feelings, but on the promises of a faithful God.

Listen Very Carefully!

'When the Lord saw Moses coming to take a closer look, God called to him from the middle of the bush.'

Exodus Ch.3 v.4 (OT) NLT

When we pray, it's easy for us to fall into the trap of reeling off our shopping list of requests, problems, needs, wants and ideas of what we want God to do for us.

Something from God brings hope, not just in the message itself but in the fact that your faith in Him over the years has been justified.

He wants to speak to us personally too. He will be persistent up to a point! There will be none of this "Now listen very carefully, I will say zis only once" - with a heavy French accent!

When we pray, it's easy for us to fall into the trap of reeling off our shopping list of requests, problems, needs, wants and ideas of what we want God to do for us. It's not bad to tell God what's on our hearts and minds, in fact He encourages us to share our concerns with Him (take a look at 1 Peter Ch.5 v.7- NT). But what if He wants to share what's on His heart with us? He does want to tell us things! Remember, in any relationship, communication is the most important factor in keeping the parties involved, together. So we need to be making the time and space to simply listen to God. He doesn't often speak to us directly these days. So sometimes it can be a bit tricky to figure out whether we're hearing His 'voice' or not. But sometimes a message can come through that is just as clear as if He is literally speaking to us. If we don't practise 'listening' to Him we won't get any messages. His messages can come through by our reading of The Bible, when a verse almost jumps out of the page at us or impresses itself on our mind. He can communicate with us through the wisdom and advice of friends and family. On a number of occasions I have experienced a thought or an idea suddenly appearing out of nowhere in my mind! Others have experienced this too. There is preaching and other peoples prayers as well. Something from God brings hope, not just in the message itself but in the fact that your faith in Him over the years has been justified. When God created the world, He spoke it into existence (take a look at Genesis Ch. 1 - OT). It shows just how powerful His voice and authority is. When God spoke to Moses through the bush He gave him purpose and no doubt quite a shock as well when the bush burst into flames. Now THAT is an attention getter! He knew Moses by name, and had a job just for him. He wanted to speak with Moses personally. 'God called to him from the middle of the bush, "Moses! Moses!" "Here I am!" Moses replied' (Exodus Ch.3 v.4 NLT). He wants to speak to us personally too. He will be persistent up to a point! There will be none of this "Now listen very carefully, I will say zis only once" in a heavy French accent! Once we've 'heard' what He wants to tell us, our lives won't be the same.

What now? When you pray, leave some time for silence so that you can listen! But do your best not to let your mind wander too far away, or fall asleep. Take care.

Simon

When Shakespeare came to Leeswood OR Measure for Measure revisited

Here's a quick quiz question: what do the Danish national flag, a letter addressed to the King of England and a bunch of dead flowers have in common?

Answer: all made Leeswood.

Suitcase Theatre's forthcoming production of "HAMLET" at Theatr Clwyd not only has 28 actors on stage, it requires a busy fleet of backstage staff to help mount the show, and one member from Leeswood, Cynthia Flitcroft, found herself the perfect role: sewing cushions, running up flags, crafting letters [and envelopes], designing love notes and memorabilia, and collecting wild flowers for the demented Ophelia to distribute on stage.

"Props", as these articles are known in the trade, are a very necessary part of the production. Some may only make a fleeting appearance, but are crucial to the action. Some are trashed on the night, so there have to be "multiple" versions for later performances.

Then there's the business of costume. Cynthia is seen here in her element measuring Niall Borthwick's head for his crown. Niall plays the part of the Player King at a point in the play when a group of travelling players and actors arrive at Elsinore Castle to perform a play of their own. Step forward Alan Flitcroft plus drum – who has a role here as a travelling puppeteer and musician.

"Hamlet" runs for 4 nights in the Emlyn Williams Theatre, Theatr Clwyd, Mold from Wednesday 20th to Saturday 23rd November. If you're bowled over by Shakespeare, or even if you've never tried it, you could do worse than get a ticket for this, the original murder mystery. As well as the divine poetry there are devilish crimes of passion: stabbings, poisoning, [no less than four corpses on stage by the end] not to mention a ghost, a fight in a graveyard and a tense fencing match at the end. And while you're there, take a good look at the results of Cynthia's handiwork. Much stitching has gone on, I can assure you.

You won't see Graham Sherwood of Leeswood at the performance, as he will be busy calling the show from inside the lighting box at the back of the auditorium, but you might get a fleeting glimpse of yours truly, the Director – he's the one with the harassed, drained out appearance, not unlike the ghost....

LEESWOOD ALLOTMENTS

Well, here I go again, discussing (grumbling about) the weather!! I think everyone will agree that it's been rather wet lately. I can't give any statistics but we seem to have had our fair share of rain throughout the summer.

We didn't get many strawberries from our plants this year, however they have produced lots of runners, providing free young plants for future years. A couple of weeks ago I went to the allotment and separated these young plants from the parent plants and planted them into pots. They all seem to be doing well. The following week, I went back and took some more runners off the main plants. Not having time to pot them, I put them in a bucket with a little soil. The next time I looked at the bucket, just a few rainy days later, it was full of water and the plants looked drowned. Lesson learned... finish the job you started!

The amount of rain we have had did no harm at all to our marrow plants this year. We only had two but they produced quite a few good sized fruit. Then came the question...what do I do with them? I'm sure many Leeswood News readers remember Deirdre Barlow from Coronation Street (the lovely Anne Kirkbride) and her infamous stuffed marrow. However I was never tempted to have a go at it myself... perhaps Ken, Tracey and the rest of the Barlow family put me off. So I turned to the internet again and found a recipe for marrow cake. Personally, I think it's delicious, however, I'm not sure the rest of the family share my enthusiasm!!!

Technical Corner

Joseph Caruana

The industrial world is becoming more and more competitive. In the past there were a handful of countries that had the capabilities or the raw material to manufacture industrial products such as cars, different types of prime movers, naval vessels, aircrafts and so on. Unfortunately to those handful of countries, the rules of the game has changed and competition is coming from all parts of the world and everybody is competing for every little share of that market. Price and quality play an important part in whether a manufacturer wins or loses a market. What was a market winner in the past might not have a place in tomorrow's world. That is why we need to be progressive and move forward within the industrial manufacturing sector. Some people might want to hold to a position or might want to move in a direction because of their own gains, and not for the collective benefit of society at large. Some others keep hopping from one platform to another just because it suits them. Although this situation can be found in all walks of life, it might have effected industrial production and might have caused some damage in the long run.

The industrial world is moving, and it is moving at a very fast pace. However, the pace at which industry is moving is not dictated by industry itself, but by the market forces of the day. Over the last fifty or so years, market forces have strengthen their position and have been telling the manufacturing sector what they need to manufacture if they are to be successful. To keep ahead of the game, some manufacturers have started doing their own market research to identify which is the best place from where to source their components, which country is best to assemble the components to produce the final product, and where to sell the final product at a positive financial reward. To generate a positive financial reward, it must be clearly identified that the markets where companies are selling the finished products, do have a higher standard of living then those from where companies are sourcing their components, otherwise you will produce a finished product that people cannot afford. This is the reason why manufacturers have been moving their manufacturing facilities from one country to another or from one one part of the world to another, and unless a manufacturer can produce a product for less then it could sell it, the manufacturer will incur a negative financial reward and will eventually go out of business.

In the past, the globe was carved out between a handful of well developed industrial nations. Each of these industrial nations had its own sphere of influence which it created a favourable environment for the products it produced. This is no longer the case, and in today's commercial world, everybody is undertaking commercial activities with whoever produces the largest positive financial reward. Some would argue that the quality of a manufactured product might differ from country to country, and to a point that might be true. However, the big multinational companies do operate in a system where they have their global activities connected via a computerised system, and they tend to produce a product with unified quality standards. Therefore, by using this system it is possible to produce a product of the same quality, irrespective of where it is manufactured.

In some sections of the market, Industrial developments might have overtaken demands. In this case, some companies might try to create a market for products that we might not really need. In order to create a market for these products a company might incorporate them within an existing product to increase the positive financial reward. Once the costumers become accustom to these incorporated features, the costumer will expect them at least as the norm if not as a necessity. If we look at manufactured items and identify what is their main function, we might find out that the main function can be achieved with more or less eighty per cent of the components, nevertheless, some customers might want additional gadgets as luxury. As an example, we all know that the main purpose of a car is to get you from safely from 'A' to 'B', however, over the years many gadgets have been added. On closer analysis, one might realise that not all these added gadgets are actually needed to get you from 'A' to 'B', but they are only items of luxury. With all this said and done, there is a positive side to it, because every little bit of manufacturing activity whether it is a necessity or luxury, it will create employment and wealth.

Dementia Awareness Sessions

What is Dementia?

Dementia is an illness caused by damage to a person's brain. Memory problems are one of a number of symptoms that people with dementia may experience. Others include difficulties with planning, thinking things through, struggling to keep up with a conversation and sometimes changes in mood or behavior. Whilst it mostly affects older people, younger people can also get dementia.

Supporting people living with Dementia

Over 17,000 people affected by dementia live in rural Wales, yet they often face barriers and challenges to accessing the support they need to live meaningful lives and to remain part of their local community.

People affected by dementia often have to give up the things they love because of lack of awareness, stigma and unsupportive environments. With increased awareness, understanding and support from local communities, people affected by dementia can continue to live full and active lives.

Leeswood & Ponblyddyn is working towards becoming a Dementia Friendly Community

This involves working together to ensure people with dementia feel understood, valued and able to contribute to their community. Everyone in the community can be involved from churches to youth groups, cafes to bowling club, the local shop to hairdresser etc.

People in the community need to understand dementia before they can take dementia-friendly actions that will make the community more inclusive. Dementia Awareness sessions provide an effective way of increasing understanding in local communities. The session is free, takes no more than 1 hour and involves learning more about dementia and the small ways we can all help.

We hope you will help us to make Leeswood & Pontblyddyn a Dementia Friendly Community

Councillor G. Sherwood advised that the Steering Group had met on 2nd September 2019. There were only three members present, himself, Mrs Helen Jones of Flintshire County Council and Mrs Shereen Devine, Age Friendly Communities Co-Ordinator. Mrs Shereen Devine is now working in Leeswood one day per week until November when the funding will cease. The cost of funding Mrs Devine for a half day per week would be £3,924 or for a day £7,160. It was pointed out that Mrs Devine had done a lot of good work in the Community but there would come a time when she would be moving on and the Community would need to build on this themselves. The weekly Café runs itself now and there are new volunteers. All Councillors agreed that the Steering Group needs to be stronger as this would help going forward.

A Lunch Club is to be started in agreement with the caterers at Ysgol Derwenfa. The Taster Session is to take place on 2nd October 2019, this would be free. It was hoped that following the initial session, the Lunch Club would be held monthly on the first Wednesday with the cost being £4.50.

PARKING ISSUES – BELL'S CORNER

Councillor R. Hughes, Chairman, advised that Flintshire County Council had been ready to go ahead with the double yellow lines on Bell's Corner. ### PONTBLYDDYN CROSSROADS

Councillor R. Hughes, Chairman, advised that this matter was ongoing at Flintshire County Council and a report would be received once further information was available. Whatever is decided upon will be submitted for funding in January 2020.

PONTBLYDDYN VILLAGE SIGN

Councillor R. Hughes, Chairman, reported that this sign has not yet been put in place. It was believed that this would be completed soon.

150TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE MOLD RIOTS, 2019

Mr Kevin Matthias, Chair of the Daniel Owen Festival had sent e-mail correspondence advising that for the Sunday 20 October walk it has been decided after much debate to stick to the roads. Some of the footpaths are challenging and if there is a decent number of walkers the stiles would hold people up so the following route has been chosen: County Road & Constitution Hill down the A5104 to Pontblyddyn Cross then A541 to the Llong turnoff then the B5444 into Mold. There will be plenty of stewards with yellow jackets (although volunteers are welcome).

Activities that Theatr Clwyd is planning at the school are still to be decided but a better idea would be had after the Daniel Owen Festival meeting on Wednesday. An article is to be submitted to our community newspaper (deadline the 18th of this month) to get some more publicity for the walk and the Festival and Mold Riots production in general. The exact route of the Leeswood and Pontybodkin walk (Thursday morning 24 October) is still to be confirmed. It is considered that the old railway line route is a bit problematic. A further look at this route is to be undertaken this week.

All Councillors expressed their appreciation to Mr Matthias for keeping them informed of the progress.

LEESWOOD MEMORIAL CENTENARY FIELDS

Councillor R. Hughes, Chairman and the Clerk reported on a meeting with Fiona Mocko, Strategic Policy Advisor, regarding an event to celebrate Leeswood Memorial being registered as a Centenary Field. It was hoped that this event would be held in October. There would be guests from the County Council, the Royal British Legion and all members from this Council were to be invited.

ONE VOICE WALES – MODEL FINANCIAL REGULATIONS FOR WALES 2019

Members had been circulated with a copy of the Model Financial Regulations for Wales 2019 as supplied by One Voice Wales. Councillor G. Sherwood proposed, and Councillor R. Williams seconded that these be adopted. All Councillors in agreement.

FLINTSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL – RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT, LAND AT QUEEN STREET, LEESWOOD

E-mail correspondence had been received from Nadine Hughes, Technical & Street Naming Officer, Flintshire County Council. This correspondence advises that the developers for the land off Queen Street would like to give the name Ivy Close to the new street. All Councillors agreed that this was a suitable name.

FLINTSHIRE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN UPDATE

Correspondence had been received from Andrew Roberts, Service Manager – Strategy, Flintshire County Council.
